New Drum Major Scores Hit In First Appearance With Girl Band

(See Front Cover)

If you saw someone last Friday night clapping a little harder than usual for the All-Girl band of Punchard, and if you wondered why, chances are that he or she knew something that you didn't know. For it wasn't exactly the same band last Friday night, not quite. That girl in white out in front, bravely twirling her baton, breaking into a spontaneous smile at times, was making her first appearance as drum major, and her first appearance was a fine appearance, flawless in every detail. To those who knew this, Barbara Parker added another thrill to the many that Punchard's All-Girl band always provides with every performance. She led them through their many maneuvers with apparent ease, including the tricky self-inverting spiral shown on the front cover, in which the drum major starts the girls in a circle which gradually spirals into the center there to turn itself inside out, with some of the girls going in and some going out at the same time. If that explanation mixes you up, it may serve to impress upon you the skill which the girls have acquired in not getting mixed up themselves.

The program was for the Andover Service Club scholarship fund, and both its purpose and its quality deserved a better turn-out. Betty Manning, monologist, provided many a laugh as she portrayed the wife who buying the suit she wanted for her husband of the much-maligned name, urged him to speak for himself—Lord help Elmer if he had! "Dime Store Delia" and "The Irish Girl" gave her an opportunity to delve into some jargon and some brogue. The mother who preaches self-control to the father and then gets hysterical when she thinks the baby swallowed a pin that nestles safely in her lapel preceded the real hit of the evening, "Aunt Effie on Horseback." Her facial expressions aided the monologue, and as for the rest of Aunt Effie's anatomy—well, you just wondered how Miss Manning could possibly dance after bouncing when she should have been posting.

Dance she did, though, with the many others who enjoyed Harold Phinney's recordings well into the night. You really should have been there; it was a real fifty cents' worth.

First Graders To Register Next Week

School is almost over for Andover's school children, but for some it's almost about to begin. Next week the newest group of youngsters to enter the schools, next September's first-graders, will register. The parent and the child will meet the child's teacher, the school principal and the school nurse at this time.

Children who are six years of age on or before the first day of next January may enter the first grade. Those who will be six on or before the first day of next March may also enter provided they pass a test showing that they have a maturity equal to that of January first six-year-old.

The schedule for registration is as follows:

Indian Ridge School—May 19, 2:45 - 3:30 P. M.

Jackson School—May 20, 2:45 - 3:30 P. M.

Shawsheen School—May 21, 1:30 - 3:30 P. M.

Bradlee School—May 22, 2:30 - 3:30 P. M.

The following letter was received last week from Andover's mayor:

Dear Mr. Mayor,

re: Our "Spitfire" Fund

In view of your town's very generous offer to help us present a $5,000 "Spitfire" Aircraft to the nation, I am sure you will be interested to hear that we have now reached a total of $4,060.

We are having an Andover "War Weapons" Week commencing on May 17th, when all the townspeople will be asked to invest every available pound in Government loans. We must complete our "Spitfire Fund" before that date, so may we expect to receive your welcome contribution in the meantime?

Things are grim here at times, but we still have our tails well up!

Again thanking you for your interest and with every good wish to your people,

I remain,

Yours sincerely,

Nathan Hamblin Loses Poise at 70

Nearly fifty years have passed since Nathan C. Hamblin emerged from the studious confines of Harvard University. He was then but a young man of 21, and now he's seventy, but in that half century he has devoted his life to young people—and today at 70 he is still young. With that thought in mind his faculty members at Pynchard on his recent birthday presented him with a "Harvard Freshman" chair, the prototype of which has been in use at Harvard for over 100 years. Many graduates have purchased similar chairs, with the Harvard coat of arms in gold, as mementos of their college days.

Since last he occupied one of those chairs, Nathan Hamblin has had an interesting career, being down at Tabor Academy in Marion before he received the appointment to Pynchard's principalship, thirty years ago. Three decades of graduating classes have known him and loved him; hundreds and hundreds of students have marveled at his poise and gentlemanly manner of taking care of whatever situation arose. It took his teachers to shatter that poise to bits. What would you do, if after chuckling to yourself all day at the thought that you had reached 70 without anyone's knowing it, you did your duty as a principal and decided to go down to one of the rooms to put a stop to a disturbance, there to find all your faculty hurling a "Happy Birthday to You" at you? Poise just doesn't stand such shocks, not even Nathan Hamblin's poise.

And they didn't give him much of a chance to regain his composure. Gene Lovely, his successor-elect, walked into the room with a huge cake bearing 70 candles, all of which with one lusty gust Mr. Hamblin blew out. The windows in the room must have been still shaking from the gust when Edward Manning of the faculty appeared with the faculty's gift of a Freshman chair.

Four pupils who had managed to keep the secret well, Lucille Nollet, Frances Reidy, Lillian Lovely and Jean Gregory, served refreshments: Marion MacDonald played some of her records, and Mrs. William McDonald showed motion pictures.

Nathan Hamblin next morning set forth on his 71st year, and despite the previous day's shock, he again had regained the poise that he had on his 41st, 51st and 61st birthdays here—and which everyone in Andover and every Pynchard graduate everywhere expects that he will show on his 81st, 91st and 101st birthdays.

★★EDITORIAL★★

Not Just Shawsheen

A suggestion has been made from time to time in the past that to solve the problem of toll charge or no toll charge in the telephone service, it might be well to extend the Lawrence exchange area to include Shawsheen Village. This was predicated on the assumption that most of the agitation for elimination of the toll to Lawrence came from that section of the town, but an analysis of the recent poll shows that such is not the case. Some in Shawsheen wanted the present system retained; a good many outside of Shawsheen wanted it changed, a good many from West Parish, from the center of the town, from the Vale, and yes, even from the Hill. This is something that according to the poll is wanted by a majority of telephone subscribers in the whole of Andover; fairness demands that the majority rule.

Teacher-Association

Andover's Parent-teacher association ended another year last night. It has a worthy purpose, as shown by its name; it aims to bring parents and teachers together to discuss in common the problems that they are both interested in: children.

If you went to the meetings of the Andover association and if you analyzed the attendance, you'd probably come to this startling conclusion: that the teachers are more interested in children than their parents are. For the teachers are doing excellent work in the organization, while the parents are not exactly holding their end up. In Shawsheen they have an association in which parents and teachers both are active; Andover certainly should have one too. The type of parent who sits at home and grumbles about schools and teachers is guilty of neglect of his child, for he can help solve all his problems by maintaining contact with the teacher through just such an organized group as the Parent-teacher association.

Choir Loses Title By Nine Points

The Andover Male Choir no longer holds the title of champion male choir of New England, but it's still 'way up there in reach of the championship, looking ahead to 1942. Only nine points separated the local choir from the Wollaston Glee club in the final score at the annual competition held at Medford Saturday, and nine out of 562 isn't much of a margin.

No Andover Male choir has yet been influenced by a defeatist complex, and this year's was no exception. But when you've been champions two years in a row, it does make you a bit shaky beforehand, and it's safe to say that most of the members went to Medford determined to do their best but very cognizant of the fact that it would be difficult to win. They were scheduled to meet Portland's Men's Singing club in the Group 11 competition, and Portland had a good reputation. Yet Andover was 35 points ahead of Portland to win the Group II prize.

Wollaston in Group III, not considered too seriously as a possible challenger, received a score of 562 points, with Highland Glee club of Newton second with 528. In Group I the Temple choir of Lowell was rated 457 points and the Beverly Men's Singing club came in second with 377. In the final decision for the grand prize Wollaston's 562 just nosed out Andover's 553.

BALLARDVALE P. T. A. HEALTH PROGRAM

The regular monthly meeting of the Ballardvale P. T. A. was held in Bradlee School last Thursday evening. The program was in charge of the teachers and included a tableau and several plays emphasizing the rules of health as they are taught in the schools. Miss Fitzhenry's room showed lantern slides made by the pupils, and a quiz program between parents and children was conducted by Donald Dunn, physical director for the Andover schools.

MAY 16—Lincoln Spelling Contest Tomorrow Night

"Gosh! I knew how to spell that word, but with all those people watching me, and Jane next to me wishing that I would fail on the word because she knew how to spell it, no wonder I was so nervous that I couldn't think straight. Well, I'll study hard this year, and next year I'll go up and win the contest."

That's probably what most of the children in last year's spelling bee said after it was all over, and now they have signed up again to go in there and spell to the finish and walk off with the honors. Whether they win or not, they'll deserve credit for going up there and trying. You know, they can't all win, but to the following contestants, we wish all the luck in the world for tomorrow night: Pauline Granville, James Weldon, Charles Broadley, Marilyn McKay, Howard Coon, Jacqueline Webster, Allan Petty, William Merchant, Janice Cole, Jane Lynch, Shirley Stephens, Anne Burns, Helen Dowd, Edwin Bramley, Marjorie Anne Weeks, Polly Black, Edward O'Connor, Edith Ambye, Jack Sherman, Joan Holdsworth, James Kelleth, Miriam Dearborn, Evelyn Locke, Annie Colombozian, Pauline Erlar, Jean Mulvey, Janet Campbell, William Christison, Clare

Darby, Lillian Dimlich, Lorraine Hardisty, Benjamin Locke, Jocelyn White, Marjorie Mears, Kathleen Levebvre, Geraldine McCall, Claire Lefebvre, Eileen Fitzpatrick, Marion White, Mary Lord, Estelle Oliver, Brenda Giles, Bertha Reed, Romilly Humphries, Barbara Dake, Anne Archibald, Margaret Wallace, Christiana Duke, Ruth Anderson, Esther Hibbert, Audrey Nowell, John Thomson, Connie Burns, Barbara Elaney, Letitia Noss, Patrick Brogan, Josephine Coolidge, Joan McLaughlan, Esther Kent, Marie Reilly, Fred Cole, Dianne Gould, Elma Fone, William Stopford, Shirley Sawyer, Irene Hamel, Nancy Elliott, Bernice Bryant, Elizabeth Haakonsen, Carol Hutchins, William Brogan, Richard Lindsay, Mary Hargedon, Robert Dea, Monica Regan, Jeanne Kenney, Gladys Deyermond, Chester Jenkins, Marie Eastwood, Theresa Bernard, Eileen Tisbert, Robert Lowe, Laura Earley, Anne Reading, Anne Sparks, Allan Munroe, William Munroe, Paul Medolo, Gene Farnsworth, Joan Nash, Eileen Byrne, Irene Shorten, Theresa Lefebvre, Helen Gordon, Frances Surette, Ethel Le Tourneau, Donald Blackmere, Louise Doyle, Marjorie Smart, Marguerite Botsch, John Little, William Poland, Shirley Stevens, Mabel Lawrence, Madge Twomey, Lorraine Richard, Alice Beaulieu, Frances Little, Robert McCall, Jean Hardy, Sally North, Agnes Waldie, Charles Waterman and Marjorie Miller.

Why not all go up to the Memorial Auditorium tomorrow night and encourage the above mentioned children for their spelling ability.

DEMAND A BLEND FOR YOUR FURNACE

Biggest house-heating discovery in years:

There are two kinds of anthracite—"Red-Ash" and "White-Ash". "Red-Ash" burns hot and quick. Ideal for cold snaps, but won't bank well. "White-Ash" is steady and lasting, but won't "hump it" in cold weather. Combine the two scientifically and you get a perfect all-season fuel.

We've found the only colliery mining both kinds and blending its entire output for home furnaces. Try Colonial Blended Anthracite, and you'll use it forever.

CLINIC FOR CHILDREN ENTERING SCHOOL

The Board of Health on Tuesday afternoon will conduct a clinic for children entering school in the fall. Free vaccinations will be provided for those who cannot afford to have it done privately. The clinic will start at 3 in the Guild.

PUNCHARD'S CLASS OF 1941 ELECT THE FOLLOWING AS "MOSTS" OF THEIR CLASS

This year in the Senior Class poll for the "mosts" of Punchard, the majority of honors went to class president, "Gussie" Connolly who was chosen as most popular boy, best boy dancer, most capable boy, most respected boy and the boy who has done most for Punchard. Lucille Nollett was "runner-up" in the contest, being named as most obliging girl, most courteous girl, most capable girl, and the girl who has done most for Punchard.

The rest of the ballot is as follows: Claire Flaherty, most popular girl, girl dancer, and best mixer; best dressed students are Elaine Ashworth and Wright Bolton. Elaine was also voted as the neatest girl, and Wright was named as most promising boy. Wittiest boy and girl are Milton Craig and Marjorie Smalley; happiest girl, Margaret Kidd; best boy mixer, most athletic boy and most obliging boy were all attributed to William Yancey; the two most modest students are Edith Dunnells, John Doyle; and Dorothy Campbell was voted as the most athletic girl. The neatest boy is Andy Lindsay and the most courteous boy is Charles Kearn; Nancy Jones is the class flirt; Punchard's best girl student is Barbara Pullan who is also the most serious girl. Ruth Cashman and Glenna Markert are considered to be the most promising students, the latter also being named as the most respected girl. Doris Bourdelais who was voted the prettiest girl when she graduated from Junior High School was also voted as the prettiest again this year. Wilson Knipe was voted as class musician and also tied Wright Bolton for the most promising boy; the class actress and actor are Dorothy Miller and Walter Galley; Frances Surette is considered as the flightiest girl and Margaret Kidd is known as the class giggler. John Doyle appears on the ballot three times as the best boy student, the most serious boy, and as the class woman hater, but his hating the women doesn't make any difference to Lois Rollins, as the feeling is probably mutual, because she was voted as the class man hater. Kathleen Buss is the class heartbreaker;

Robert Burnham is the class bluffer; Milton Gray is considered as the most bashful boy; class artist and class Romeo go to Paul Medolo; and the class cut-up is Milton Craig. Last, but by all means not the least, the handsomest boy of the class of '41 is William Gilman.

★ 29 MILLION!

A record
never before approached!

★When the 29,000,000th Ford rolled recently from the assembly line, an all-time record for the industry was set. 29,000,000 units built by the same management and all bearing one name—a name that has become one of the best-known trade-marks in the world!

It is significant that this achievement comes at a time when our country is making a mighty effort to re-arm swiftly. For to further that effort, to help speed it along in any possible way, we have offered the vast facilities of the Rouge Plant and every ounce of our experience.

As you read this, a new $21,000,000 Ford airplane engine plant, started only last fall, is nearly completed. A new magnesium alloy plant, one of the few in the country, is already in production on light-weight airplane engine castings. Work is right now under way on a new $18,000,000 plant for mass production of big bomber assemblies. Orders have been filled for military vehicles of several types, including army reconnaissance cars, staff cars and bomb service trucks.

In the midst of this activity for National Defense, building the 29 millionth Ford car is simply one part of the day's work.

The public has acclaimed the 1941 Ford car as the finest in Ford history. Ford Dealers are enjoying their greatest sales and expecting their best year since 1937.

It is good to be producing the things America needs, and to be setting records on the way!
